Dear Friends:

First, I would like to send my warmest wishes to everyone attending this year's extraordinary event, the Regis High School Centennial Gala Celebration.

It is with great honor that I express my deepest congratulations and appreciation to the "extended family" of Regis High School, a New York City landmark, founded in 1914 as the country's only tuition-free Catholic secondary school. You should take great pride in the fact that the admissions process gives specific consideration to those who cannot otherwise afford a Catholic education, that 32% of enrolled students at the school are members of minority groups, and that 40% of the students are the sons of immigrants. Regis's significant contribution to the elevation of opportunities for low-income and minority families deserves great recognition.

I thank not only Regis High School, but also the President of the Institution, Reverend Philip G. Judge, S.J., for your ongoing commitment and invaluable contributions to both education and the preservation of traditional Ignatian values. Congratulations on 100 years and best wishes for 100 more!

Sincerely,
