Office of the President

20 April 2013

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to Regis this evening! Thank you for joining us for a night of good company, tasty food and drink, and a chance to bid on some wonderful prizes. Tonight marks that 20th year of this Regis fundraising and friend raising tradition. Our motto this year is: "Be a hero" – your support promises that. In addition, I am sure you will have a great time.

Our Parents' Club and its Auction Committee have been hard at work putting together this year's gala. All of it is in support of a worthy cause. For almost 100 years Regis has provided the finest possible education for young men of great academic and leadership potential. Whether students begin their high school career with us, or more recently, join us in the middle school REACH program, they benefit from a full scholarship. The ability to provide those scholarships depends on annual fundraising, of which the Parents' Club Auction is our largest event. So, as you hunt for that perfect gift or go after that outstanding trip, please know that the money you spend at the auction funds the future for deserving young men. Bid early and often, buy some raffles, raise your paddle high knowing that your contributions make a huge difference for the 650 young men REACH and Regis educate each year.

Thanks again for being with us for an evening of fun to benefit a great cause. Enjoy bidding for good!

Sincerely,

(Rev.) Philip G. Judge, S.J. '80

20 April 2013

Dear Friends of Regis,

It is our pleasure to welcome you to the Regis Auction 2013. It is hard to believe that this is the 20th anniversary of the Parents' Club auction and amazing to reflect on how it has grown through the years to become Regis' largest fundraiser. The first auction was a very humble affair that began with a simple folding table in the hallway outside the conference room where Father Judge's advisement meets daily. Today, the logistics and preparation for the event and the event itself span from the cafeteria all the way to the Development Office on the top floor. The theme of this year's auction is "Be a hero" and through the years many heroes have come forward to make this event a continual success.

Tonight, you will have an opportunity to "Be a hero" for Regis, as you bid on the many hundreds of items that have been generously donated by Regis' friends, faculty and staff, alumni and students, as well as local and national vendors. The auction has something for everyone – from golf outings, vacation homes and sporting events to jewelry, art and the latest technological gadgets. You truly can be a hero by bidding freely and often, not only in the silent auction in the gym, but also at the live auction that will begin at 8:00 pm in the auditorium.

An event of this magnitude is not possible without the support and assistance of many. The auction committee is grateful to all who made tonight possible, including the Regis administration and staff as well as the many parent and student volunteers who have given countless hours to make this night a success. Whether it was stuffing envelopes, requesting and keeping track of donations, writing thank you notes, wrapping baskets, or setting up for this evening's festivities, it took many hands and many heroes to orchestrate tonight's auction.

Thank you, also, to all who attended Regis Auction 2013. Your continued support of Regis is invaluable in assuring that our sons are able to receive the extraordinary education that Regis has to offer. It has also assured that every dollar raised this evening goes directly to support Regis.

Finally, thank you to our sons who continue to be the heroes and blessings in all of our lives.

With gratitude,

Regis Auction 2013 Committee

20 April 2013

Dear Regis Family, Alumni, and Friends,

Welcome to the main event of the year, REGIS AUCTION 2013! True to tradition, this event promises to be filled with great energy, excitement, and a remarkable show of love for Regis High School. This evening provides a unique opportunity to support Regis for all they do and at the same time be doubly rewarded with a family vacation or a beautiful piece of art. Tonight, you have an exciting mission: "Be a Hero" and make this auction "super" successful for the benefit of our sons and future Regis students to come--the superheroes of tomorrow!

The Parents' Club meetings have become increasingly focused and job oriented in order to make sure that Auction 2013 would break all records. Thank you so much for your time and dedication. The fruits of your work are evident in every gift basket and auction item on display tonight. Behind the scenes, visiting local merchants for donations, stuffing envelopes, writing letters, and collating mailings made this night possible. At the forefront of this dynamic team is our Auction Committee. You have worked hard and deserve the utmost praise for your tireless dedication. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts!

We also recognize the tremendous assistance of the faculty, administration, and staff. A special thank you goes to Joe Amatrucola and Chris Croce for their technical support including a first-time ever PowerPoint presentation in the library of our Live Auction items. Please be sure to check it out! While you are there, please tour through and see how your generous Challenge funds transformed the library. We are also grateful to our friends in Development for their resources and for opening their door with a smile to our storage of baskets lining the pathways and corners of their office. Mrs. Zamora and Mrs. Jacob, you have been there every step of the way and have watched this auction flourish. Thank you for your optimism and support.

We thank Father Judge, Dr. Tocchet, and Don Allison for their insight, guidance, and confidence throughout the year. The Parents' Club would also like to express gratitude to all the faculty and staff--so many heroes to name here--who contribute directly and indirectly to the Auction. Your support and commitment tells us that Regis must be a very special place in which to work. Our sons are blessed to be under your care.

Speaking of our young men, we have over 100 faithful Regians who are volunteering their time to thank Regis once again for the gift of their education. They are a perfect reminder of why we are here tonight!

Finally, thank you for attending this evening in support of all that is Regis. I know that each one of you is a "Hero" and has come to "save the day" to make this night an incredible financial success for our beloved school. So, please enjoy yourself, bid often, and raise your paddles high.

With much gratitude and appreciation,

*Saretha Post
